

Terms and Conditions

for using the “Map of ‘Comfort Stations’ of the Japanese Military” (high-resolution version; charge required)

The “Map of ‘comfort stations’ of the Japanese military” (hereinafter referred to as the “Map”) was produced by the Women’s Active Museum on War and Peace (WAM) based on intensive research of documents, including survivors’ testimonies, soldiers’ testimonies/memoirs, eyewitness reports, and official documents. While the print version of the Map (¥110/copy) is sold at WAM, we also provide two types of digital files of the Map image: a free of charge low- resolution version and a charge-required high-resolution version. When applying for the high-resolution, charge-required version, please adhere to the terms and conditions below.

1. There are four different versions of the Map image, as shown in Appendix 1. Please see Appendix 2 for cases where use is not permitted due to copyright protection, prevention of alteration, etc.
2. The fee is JPY 11,000. If you need an invoice, please contact WAM (please note that we only accept payment via PayPal from abroad).
3. One fee covers a single use of the Map image on one medium only. You may not share the provided Map image with any other organization or individual. If you wish to use it for a different purpose or in a different medium, please submit a new request form.
4. The Map image may only be used as provided. Any revision, alteration or trimming of the provided image is prohibited. The credit (© Women's Active Museum on War and Peace (WAM)) should be legible (e.g. if the text is too small to read, it should be written outside the Map image as a caption).
5. When writing explanations/captions about the Map image, ensure that they do not deviate from the outline stated in the ‘Introduction’ of the “Map of ‘Comfort Stations’ of the Japanese Military” website (<https://wam-peace.org/ianjo/intro-en/>).
6. A printed copy or data file of your material containing the Map image is to be provided to WAM for our records. Please send us the URL if you are using it online.
7. We publish on our website a list of how the Map image is used. We will publish your name, affiliation, and how you are using the Map (e.g., for a presentation, book publication, etc.). Please contact us if this is inconvenient for you.

Women's Active Museum on War and Peace (WAM)
AVACO Building 2F, 2-3-18, Nishi-Waseda, Shinjuku,
Tokyo 169-0051 JAPAN
Tel +81-(0)3-3202-4633 Email: wam@wam-peace.org

(December 2024 version)

[Appendix 1]

The high-resolution “Map of 'Comfort Stations' of the Japanese Military” (charge-required version)

* Please check the version you'd like to use in the application form.

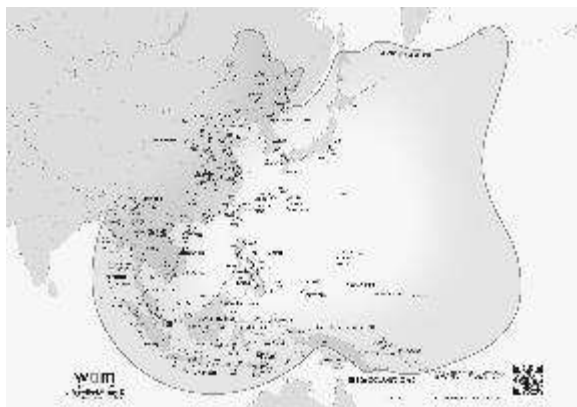

1. Color

2. Color / unshaded

3. Black and white

4. Black and white / unshaded

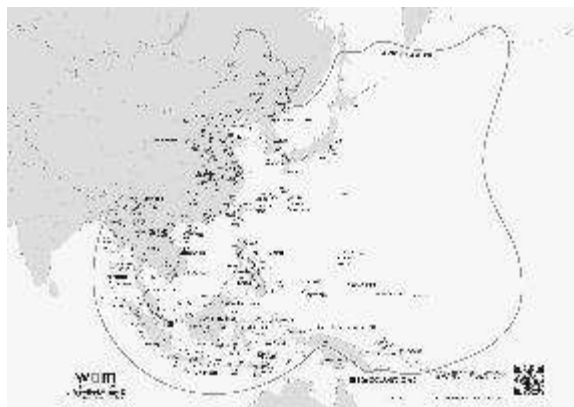

Image size:	approx. 4MB (color) approx. 3.5MB (b/w)
Dimensions:	approx. 4900 x 3900
Resolution:	300 dpi

(December 2024 version)

[Appendix 2]

Cases in which use of the high-resolution Map image is not permitted.

In order to protect the copyright and prevent the alteration of the “Map of 'comfort stations' of the Japanese military” created by WAM, we have prohibited the following types of use. We will continue to review this on a case-by-case basis. Thank you for your understanding.

A. On print media

× In exhibit panels

→ For exhibitions within Japan, the Map is available for rent in panel format (size:841mm x 594mm; charge required). The print version of the Map (¥110/copy: 420mm x 297mm) is also available at WAM. Please contact us if you have any special requests, such as an exhibition outside of Japan.

B. On online or digital media

× In e-publishing or online PDF documents

→ Use the free of charge version of the Map image (<https://wam-peace.org/download/map-dl-en.html>) or put instead the URL of the “Map of 'comfort stations' of the Japanese military” (<https://wam-peace.org/ianjo/>).

× In websites or social media posts, and in videos for distribution in various online platforms, including YouTube.

→ Use the free of charge version of the Map image (<https://wam-peace.org/download/map-dl-en.html>) or put instead the URL of the “Map of 'comfort stations' of the Japanese military” (<https://wam-peace.org/ianjo/>).

C. In lectures, seminars, etc.

× Showing the high-resolution Map image, including on slides, or distributing it in handouts or in any other way in online classes, webinars, and other such occasions.

→ Use the free of charge version of the Map image or put instead the URL of the “Map of 'comfort stations' of the Japanese military” (<https://wam-peace.org/ianjo/>).